Seattle Specialty to provide Flood Insurance during Lapse of National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP)

Everett, Wash. — March 29, 2010 For the third time in the last couple of months, the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) has expired. The lapse of the NFIP means that all policies that come up for renewal, endorsements for coverage changes, or all new policies needed for closing on new home purchases will not be available. At this time, Congress has adjourned through April 12th, and thus, there will be a minimum of two weeks before coverage becomes available again through the NFIP. To meet the needs of Seattle Specialty's Lender and Consumer client's Seattle Specialty will be (on an interim basis) offering Flood Insurance Coverage through Certain Underwriters at Lloyds of London.

For more information on obtaining Flood Insurance through Seattle Specialty, please call Larry Palmer or Kristin Minich at 800-597-1866 or visit us on the web at www.seattlespecialty.com
